Welcome to the last of our newsletters for this year.

We hope you have had a great year.

We have seen some changes in the Library including a new colleague and new library management system which has automatic renewals for books and the amount of books you can borrow at once has gone up to 16! A lot more libraries have joined the system so we have more options where to borrow books from if we don't have the one you are after.

Speaking of new colleagues - we now have a new Library Manager at our Warwick branch who will be starting next year.

Knowvember

In November we did a big promotion about KnowledgeShare - our current awareness service, which allows us to:

Manage requests for evidence searches and share the results of searches more widely.

Run information skills teaching sessions and give participants the opportunity to book, cancel bookings, download course materials and generate certificates of attendance.

Provide regular, targeted, personalised evidence updates to staff, based on your specific professional interests. Subject-specific bulletins can also be produced.

Report on searching, teaching and provision of evidence updates.

A PowerPoint presentation was created to be displayed on the GETEC plasma screens so that people in the foyer could see.

There were also posters and our library tree display.

Our colleagues had stalls in the Outpatient dept at Warwick hospital and we had a stall at the entrance to the restaurant.

This workshop will:

- Introduce key elements of critical appraisal
- Introduce different study designs
- Go through the CASP* RCT checklist in detail using a published RCT

You will be asked to read an article we send out a few days before the session. Being familiar with it will make the session more enjoyable.

We will be focusing on various profession-related research articles for our discussion, but anyone interested in evaluating or appraising research is welcome to any session! The basic principles are the same for most health-related research.
